Democratic in Politics

After a month of ideal autumn weather, the cool fall mornings are now in evidence.

The last planting of wheat is now in progress and any planted later will doubtless be a waste of labor.

Curry County land has increased in value from twenty five to fifty per cent during the past six months.

The democrats of Curry County are going to present a united and solid front next year and elect both members of the legislature.

Thousands of acres of new land is being planted in wheat this fall and many new comers are buying wheat land in the northern part of the county.

The gentle zephyrs of Sunday and Wednesday will serve to give an early initiation to many new comers who will be in shape to pass through the spring windy season without discomfort.

Those who saw the political play given by the Arlington Stock Company Tuesday night of last week, were no doubt impressed with a recollection of a similar plot in recent Curry County affairs.

In the commissioners proceedings recently published, the statement is made that the county owes A. L. Awalt, former county clerk, the sum of $2,200.
00. This, says Mr. Awalt, should be convincing proof that he is not indebted to the county as was charged.

There are few, if any, towns in the state that have as many exclusive stores as does Clovis.
In most towns of any size in this state, there is a store or two that carry everything from a needle to a lumber yard and are the "whole cheese" in the town.

Everybody caters to the owner or manager, who is the king of the village. We like the Clovis system the best. It gives the fellow with limited capital a chance to do business and you don't always have to "bow down to Hayman."

By the use of the new wireless telephone, the human voice was October 21st transmitted from Arlington to Paris. This is considered the greatest invention of the age and wireless phones may soon be in operation all over the country.
